J.M. Construction: Another Successful Summer Mission Trip to Mississippi

Jeff McLinden, President of J.M. Construction Co. - an award-winning residential design/build firm located in Medway, MA - along with 71 high school youth group members and 21 chaperones from St. Mary's Church in Holliston, MA traveled to Lizana, MI in a week-long effort to support the rebuilding of Mississippi after the devastation caused by Hurricane Katrina in 2005.

St. Mary's Mission Trips to Mississippi give high school church members the opportunity to experience the aftermath of the hurricane firsthand. Each year, the teens dedicate themselves to months of preparation before the trip with fundraising and volunteer work in their own community. Once they arrive, the group is put to service work in the recovering coastal town through painting, landscaping, carpentry, and lending a hand in the local soup kitchen. Being in close contact with the community allows the volunteers to see the effects Katrina had on Mississippi and Louisiana residents. Five years after the devastation, McLinden continues to work closely with St. Mary's and its successful building trips each summer.

J.M. Construction is a multi-level design/build company, offering a range of services from complete home remodels to single-room renovations and small projects. Founded by McLinden in 1986, J.M. Construction's expert team of professional designers, carpenters, electricians, plumbers, and other craftspeople provides its clients with top quality, professional services at competitive prices. J.M. Construction is a member of NARI (National Association of the Remodeling Industry) and the Metro West Chamber of Commerce, and is EPA-certified to Conduct Lead-Based Paint Activities and Renovations.
